

THE PERI HISTORY

Notice: The information contained in this work is not authorized for duplication or distribution to other websites or repositories. The information contained in this work is not official, until the final version appears in Tribal Law vs. Dragon's Rule.

7 M BC

The Kai Ra are forged in the Foundry by the Deepwalker Unamal. Not long after, the Kai Ra turn on their Abzulim masters, refusing to harm their former Primal bretheren. The Kai Ra return to the Foundry's vault to sleep after missing the first Bloom and not being cleansed of their shards; Scramasax the Dagger does not go to the vaults and chooses to go out into the Dominions with the Deepwalker Alu.

5M BC

Soliatire, leaves the other Kai Ra to seek enlightenment and travels various nearby Dominion worlds. Before leaving she spawns off two "children": Ivalde and Sindre (in the bird-tongue of the Morrigan they are known as Brokkr and Eitri respectively). Each has a himsati of pure living gold and are made immortal by the power of shards laying within the Foundry that have been touched by the Bloom but not eradicated by it. This makes the twins immune to fear.

1M BC

Now fully grown, the twins tire of remaining in the Foundry with the sleeping Kai Ra. They leave the Foundry and make their way to the underground world of Arcadia. Long before the rise of the Droves and before the creation of the Underworld, they become masters of this hidden realm.

700,000 BC

The Kai Ra awaken from their stasis in the Foundry and see the disarray left behind by the twins. The Kai Ra spawn several children of their own using similar techniques to Solitaire's.

400,000 BC

A mystical explosion rocks Arcadia, causing it to comingle with other similar worlds nearby, giving birth to the Underworld. The twins encounter other hybrid immortals bound to elemental forces, many of whom were birthed in the chaos following the destruction of the Nadir and the merging of the realms that now form the Underworld. Others were those created by the Kai Ra a few hundred thousand years earlier. All these immortals are drawn to the twins.

144,000 BC

Another mystical surge of power is felt through the Underworld, as it slightly shifts and settles into what is now its final state. The first Droves reach Peri held territories in the Underworld, as these Droves seek to escape the purifying effect of the Bloom. To ensure a fortress strong enough to shelter their people, and driven to create a wonder the worlds had never seen, the twins begin constructing the Walk, a vast city-bridge which encircles much of the Underworld, spanning its quiet depths.

99,000 BC

The Peri make their first appearances on Earth, after chasing a group of Terat. Eventually they are halted from fighting the Terat by Solitaire, who appears with other Terat who now follow her. She and her followers convince the remaining Terat to go with them and leave Earth. The Peri begin making tentative explorations around Earth.

88,000 BC

The first Peri Tryst is born, once it reaches maturity it is bound to a shard and creates the first true Peri mantle of Cromlech. Cromlech connects to the nascent Morpheum, allowing those dreaming to connect to it and then be pulled to the mantle. Even today there is only one entry aside from connecting to the Morpheum, and it is a closely guarded secret.

80,000 BC

The Peri settle in the area of the Underworld deep beneath what is now Israel in the area of the canyon mazes around Qumran (near where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found). They call their home Emberin and it remains their primary home until 540 BC.

71,000 BC

The Peri are drawn to the Mesopotamian valley in their explorations of Earth, sensing a great spill of power when Namergon and Anath destroy each other just outside Sheol. They encounter the Morrigan fighting a fierce storm that envelops the valley and threatens to flood the entire region. The Peri dig a deep shaft through the tiers of the Underworld to Ys, allowing much of the storm's flood waters to drain off. The Morrigan Loki becomes ambassador to the Peri and begins to court the Peri Sif.

67,000 BC

The Peri, under Ivalde's lead, begin building a powerful warship named Skidbladnr. Sif chooses the Morrigan Thor over Loki and becomes his consort. As an act of revenge, Loki begins seeding a rivalry between the twins Sindre and Ivaldi. By the time Skidbladnr is finished, he is able to engineer a contest between Sindre and Ivalde to determine the better craftsman. The contest turns bitter and the rivalry between the twins consumes the Peri. It leads to a civil war when Loki judges Sindre's Draupnir Ring to be the superior work over Ivalde's Torques of Almandia.

60,000 BC

The Peri civil war ends with Kin Ivaldi enslaved to the Morrigan for thousands of years and the Morrigan taking Skidbladnr as a flying citadel they came to call Magonia. Eventually, almost all members of Kin Ivaldi are corrupted by Loki and become known as Drove Azhoth. Sindre, wracked with guilt, falls into an unwavering trance, the Peri are left leaderless. The alliance with the Morrigan weakens considerably.

50,000 BC

As the Lash peaks, thousands of immortals flee the Dominions and return to Earth. The Peri half-heartedly take up arms with the Morrigan who have allied with the Eremites against the Anopheles (allied with the Arachne) as they come to Earth to try and reclaim the last remnants of their lost fortress world of Babel.

40,000 BC

The Peri split their forces as they attempt to take on the avatar of the Sanguinary known as the Dust, their losses are again high without proper leadership. The Peri quickly become mercenary in their approach to the Shouting War, several heading out into the Dominions to fight alongside the highest bidders. Most of them are consigned to the Blue Air.

30,000 BC

The Peri Nimue discovers an underground island beneath the area of present-day Andover in Great Britain. Located there is a NaGate that connects directly into the Blue Air. There she finds a near-dead sapling of a previously unknown plant; drawn to it, she seeks to save it from certain death. The realm is named Avalon and a group of Peri dedicate themselves to protecting and nurturing the sapling they found there. The huge lake surrounding the island is fed life force blown in from the Blue Air and with the Peri's help, Ygdrassil grows into a fine young Sunedrion Weald.

10,000 BC

Facing defeat at the hands of the Nimrod, most of the Kai Ra – still deep in stasis through the Shouting War – are removed from the Foundry's vault and hidden in Avalon where the power of the Nimrod cannot breach the power of the Sunedrion Weald.

8,000 BC

Having lost the Morrigan to the Zuzog, the Peri have become incredibly weakened and their numbers depleted from serving as the front line of defense against the various droves attacking the imprisoned prides. They are approached by the former generals of the other prides, with an offer to revitalize their powers in exchange for an alliance to assist in freeing all the prides. The Peri agree and over the next thousand years they are slowly revitalized by life force given to them by this new group of warriors called the Banjax.

7,000 BC

The Banjax / Peri alliance breaks out of Sheol. After resting and rearming themselves, they return to Sheol by using lesser-guarded access points further away from where the Prides have fortified themselves. Fighting their way through various droves, they reach the others and guide them back out the way they came. The Peri are physically devastated by their losses during the Shouting War and their imprisonment in Sheol.

5,900 BC

The Peri travel to Atlantis but are not admitted into the Stratagem Pact; they have no true leader still and their numbers are too low to be considered a true Pride. The Banjax agree to harbor the Peri and represent them until such time that the Peri are able to become full members of the Stratagem.

4,735 BC

Atlantis is destroyed and the Prides are brought to North America before dispersing. The majority of the Peri return to the Underworld, finding much of the Walk overrun with droves. They take up residence again in Emberin, as well as their other places of safety such as Cromlech and Avalon. They begin work under North America in the area of present-day Kentucky on a new master fortress.

2500 BC

The Peri begin the creation of the Citadel fortress beneath the area of the Chartreuse rang at the borders of France, beneath the La Dent de Crolles cave network.

600 BC

While making repairs to the Walk, the Peri discover the Blue Emerald laying amid some rubble. Creating a large range of new devices and functions for the Walk, the Blue Emerald is used to power them. It would not be long before the Peri became divided over the presence of the great shard in their midst; not matter that it was of huge benefit in keeping the Walk's many regions functioning smoothly and serving as a computer-like organic processor to store their collected tales. Despite pleas from the Cerulean Order (a group of Peri dedicated to studying unique, intelligent shard), a decision was made to try and find a way to cut the Blue Emerald into smaller pieces. The Blue Emerald was stolen by the Cerulean Order and they fled deep into the Underworld.

575 BC

Drove Azoth attacks Emberin and the vaults of the Foundry simultaneously. They make off with a number of Kai Ra still in stasis as well as a number of Peri prisoners. These are taken to their dark underground fortress of Alavastis. Two of the Kai Ra, Caliburn and Mimir, were still in Avalon. Mimir is awakened and told the news. He drains most of the existing life force in the great lake around the island and singlehandedly assaults Alavastis. He frees most of the Peri prisoners that have not been turned to the Azhoth and with these freed prisoners (who would become Kin Gargoyle among the Peri) he carries the other Kai Ra back to the Foundry and demands that the Peri guard the Foundry from this point forward. A group of Peri leave Emberin to bolster the Foundry's defenses.

540 BC

As The Anopheles, Eremites and Magdalen vie for control over Israel and surrounding areas, the Peri abandon Emberin to take up residence in the Citadel under France. This keeps them out of the political situation since they are still not sanctioned within the Stratagem yet, but has the unfortunate effect of distancing them from the Banjax somewhat. To maintain relations they agree to assist the Banjax in pushing out all outsiders from Banjax territories in Egypt. A second contingent takes up residence underneath the area of what becomes Sparta and influence their people through the next few centuries and into the Persian Wars.

450 BC

The Cerulean Order makes their home in Undersky after being led there by the Blue Emerald. In route to speak with their former brothers and sisters they discover the Copper Passage, the only known underground Ley Line in existence. This leads the Peri to quick access around Europe and the Middle East. Around the area of what is now Northern France the Peri influence the developing Gaul people and become protectors of the Belgae peoples. From here they would influence France, Germany and the British Isles.

353 BC

The Peri-sponsored Spartans are forced back by the Magdalen-sponsored Macedonians and quickly lose control as the Phoenix take over the Macedonians through Alexander the Great in 338 BC.

57 BC – Ceaser invades Belgae (eventually Belgium) and drives the Peri out, some of their members head towards Great Britain to join Kin Avalon, encountering the Fir Bolg (then known as the Fear of Ulag). The Peri are now scattered across various parts of Europe and Asia fighting as mercenaries without real leadership. The Morrigan would eventually take sponsorship of the Gauls the Peri have just lost.

100 AD

Ganeida, a mortal sister of Morgan Le Fay, had been seduced by the Sanguinary and trained in dark arts by Drove Firbolg of Great Britain. Crossing all of Europe she sought the Joystone, one of the seven Ch'I Pao stones of the Incubus Heart (cut by Kali and Sharakai in 632 BC). Using her dark arts she fashioned a charm using a chalice reputed to have been the Cup of Christ and created the Holy Grail. Using this charm she was able to bring Sindre out of his guilt-induced trance. As a reward, the Peri undertook the risky task of making her immortal; unaware of her loyalty to the Sanguinary and the fact that the Firbolg had already prepared her for such a transformation. Once immortal she gathered her mortal servants to her (the Nibelung), enhanced the charm using knowledge she gained in the Foundry, and used it to cast a spell of compliance over the Peri of Europe.

265 AD – The Soga Peri setup sanctuaries in Senkutso no Akuma (Devil's Catacombs) as they make advances on Japan, now that the Dracul and Arachne are weakened from the Three Kingdoms War with the Hive and focused on China.

273 AD

The Golden Palace is built in a huge cavern in Devil's Catacombs (it serves this day as the seat of power for the Peri in Japan). The Iron Castle is built as well (it serves as the primary stronghold of Kin Bloodstone today).

337 AD

Ganeida seeks the Blue Emerald. Her campaigns against the Cerulean Order to find it consign many to the Blue Air. The Ivaldi Alberich escapes using a mystical cap he created for Hermes, and takes word to the Peri in Asia; but they are too busy with their own issues against the Arachne and Tengu to help.

339 AD

Using the voxes of fallen Peri, the Nibelung Quiet Culture impregnates various Peri females and the resulting children are made immortal through Ganeida's dark arts: The Toys. The remainder of the Cerulean Order takes refuge with Kin Avalon, who are protected from Ganeida, the Nibelung and The Toys.

371 AD

In her dreams, Ganeida receives instructions to kill a young boy named Merlin. Using dark arts she would transform herself into the likeness of a dragon and scour Europe seeking out this boy. One night she encounters a Ki Rin of the Dracul and the two fought. Eventually it chases her into caverns underneath Dinas Emrys, where they spent several months chasing after one another.

372 AD

Vortigern is unable to build upon Dinas Emrys, Ganeida finally spots Merlin but is unable to do anything as Lin Do is also still present in the area. Using her dark arts she convinces Vortigern that the blood of the young boy must be mixed into the mortar. But Merlin convinced Vortigern of the existence of the two "dragons" below the hill, foiling her plan. She manages to defeat the Ki-Rin, but is interrupted in her plans to destroy Merlin by the arrival of Lin Do of the Dracul (investigating the apparent death of the Ki Rin). The two face off under the hill one last time and she is forced to flee rather than continue to face him.

410 AD

Kin Avalon close off entry to their, providing refuge to a number of rebel Morigan led by an Ingenue named Morgan Le Fay. During this same time, the famous Arthur is crowned king of Britain.

420 AD

Realizing Arthur is the true target of the Sanguinary and the prophesized child that Merlin had come to oversee the birth of, Ganeida sets her sights on destroying Arthur. Unfortunately by this time Kin Avalon had provided Arthur with Excalibur and he was able to force her to lose the grail and her hold on the Peri. Freed, the Peri would support Arthur against Ganeida, but were unable to prevent her from disguising herself and becoming pregnant with the Tryst Mordred after she decided to corrupt him instead of destroy him. She then was able to gain control over the Peri again through Arthur, until the Bright blood Percivale discovered the lost grail and used its powers to destroy the charm spell permanently. Ganeida was consigned to the Blue Air but may have returned to Earth in recent years.

536 AD

The Soga Peri come to power in Japan, and support the spread of Buddhism.

593 AD

Suiko of Clan Soga becomes Empress of Japan and rules for 35 years under the protection of the Peri. She maintains peace between the Peri, Arachne and Dracul, who ally in ferreting out Tengu influence there after the Tengu and the Hive form a temporary alliance. The Tengu then call upon Drove Sainha to assist them in Japan.

624 AD

Despite attempts by Arachne, Dracul and Peri, the Zen branch of Buddhism takes hold in Japan. At this point the three Prides attempt to gain control over it to use against the Tengu-inspired Shinto philosophy.

645 AD

The Hive steps in and takes control over the Japanese government, but the Arachne, Dracul and Peri all adapt and swiftly begin to influence the new government to stop the Hive-Tengu-Sainha alliance from taking over Japan.

660 AD

The Arachne remove the Soga Peri from their Emerald Palace mantle in Japan and make it their primary stronghold in the area. The Soga retreat to the Golden Palace in Devil's Catacombs.

680 AD

A contingent of Peri take part in the formation of Bulgaria after assisting to push back Eremite influence in the form of the Byzantine Empire.

772 AD

The Peri become involved in the Saxon Wars on both sides; various splinter groups wind up fighting each other.

939 AD

The Arachne setup a Civil war between their mortal followers, the Fujiwara family, and the mortal followers of the Peri (Taira) and Dracul (Minamoto). The Taira do not fare well and their Peri sponsors are forced to flee to the Underworld and join the Soga in the Golden Palace.

999 AD

Almost all Peri are within strongholds and mantles scattered in the Underworld, mostly forgotten by humanity except as legends, they ride out the wave of faith that rips through several of the Prides. Those who are still on Earth become trapped in their weapon forms and are lost to the Peri for generations until they are rediscovered. During this same year, the Peri Hlaoir (weakened from the build-up of faith) is consigned to the Blue Air by the strongman Tambarskjelve during the Viking Civil War at the Battle of Svolder.

1000 AD

With the assistance of the Peri, the Phoenix capture a Ru-Shou named Vouvre in the Underworld (guarding a pool of Dark mead) and bring it under the influence of their Knights Templar Quiet Culture

1095 AD

The Wormine Druids reveal themselves as insurgents within the Lapis Quiet Culture and destroy most of the Citadel and surrounding outposts. The Peri move to the Hearth and begin construction of the Gauntlet around it. The Peri of Europe are completely devastated and almost none remained save for the small Kin Avalon and The Toys. The Soga and Taira Peri of the Bloodstone are in hiding under Japan, the Sindren and Ivaldi have gone to North America to the Hearth where Sindre is overthrown as leader, and the Gargoyle's are scattered with only the Foundry and Mimir to serve as a place to call home. Disgusted, many Peri unofficially leave the Pride and follow along with others into the Crusades.

1138 AD

The combined forces of the Bloodstone houses of Soga and Taira retake the Emerald Palace mantle in Japan from the Arachne while the Arachne are still weakened from the events of 999 AD. The Peri are almost nonexistent through most of the Earth, with only pockets left in Underworld fortresses and mantles as each Kin has holed up.

1206 AD

The Peri Al-Jazari releases "Book of Knowledge of Ingenious Mechanical Devices"

1212 AD

As the Eremites and Magdalen fight over the faith of Islam in Jerusalem, most of the 50,000 children sent in to fight the Saracens in this "Children's Crusade) are captured by the Arachne. A secret deal is struck whereby the Arachne will study the Peri's immunity to fear in exchange for providing them with all the captured children. The children, already altered by the Arachne, are passed to Kin Gargoyle, who struck the deal on behalf of Mimir. Mimir awakens the other Kai Ra in the Foundry and the children are taken away by the elemental weapons. When returned nearly a year later, the children are a new breed of Peri: Kin Palin. Except for Caliburn, the Kai Ra immediately return to full stasis.

1215 AD

Caliburn brings a contingent of Kin Gargoyle and all of Kin Palin to The Hearth and takes over the Pride. The Palin are sent across the world to bring order to the scattered mercenary Kins of the Peri. Caliburn proposes that the Peri can no longer be small pockets of mercenary groups unable to actively support one another.

1220 AD

Caliburn appears at the annual Paragon meeting with an army of Peri and demands they be given equal representation among the Stratagem. The Arachne, Magdalen, Nimrod and Tuatha oppose their entry. The Anopheles, Banjax, Eremites and Terat support it. The Morrigan abstain from voting. The Dracul are last to vote and vote in favor of allowing their entry. The Peri become part of the Stratagem Pact. Caliburn makes concerted efforts to reign in the scattered mercenary Peri taking part in the Crusades.

1274 AD

Having attempted to move into Japan, the Arachne-sponsored Kublai Kahn is repulsed by a Dracul-Peri alliance.

1291 AD

The end of the Ninth Crusade. The Peri begin to pick and choose sides in battles, to ensure that they do not end up fighting one another (though they do not have to be on the same side). All major Peri involvement in large wars is passed through and approved by the leaders of their Kins. The Peri begin to enter into various wars with more purpose; notable wars they take part in and have influence over:

- 1302 French-Flemish War
- 1315 Irish War for Independence
- 1326 Polish-Teutonic War
- 1337 Hundred Year' War
- 1341 Breton War of Succession
- 1420 Hussite Wars

1333 AD

The Morrigan sponsored Ashikaga Takauji, a vassal of the Peri-influenced Hojo family of Shoguns, betrays them and allows Emperor Go-Daigo to crush them. Go-Daigo uses the gained power rule over Japan as a whole for the next three years until deposed by the Dracul. The Morrigan then put the Ashikaga family in the Shogunate prompting a civil war in 1336.

1392 AD

The Morrigan Ashikagas take control of Japan, curbing Peri influence there.

1453 AD

The Dracul and Anopheles are declared Profane and expelled from the Stratagem, the Peri agree to the Phoenix Ultimatum.

1500 AD

The Peri leave the Stratagem Pact along with the Tuatha and Banjax. The Peri become involved in every major war from 1500 to 1666, attempting to assist alliances with the Dracul, Anopheles, Phoenix, Terat, Tuatha and Banjax. They are forced into battle against the Morrigan again and again, destroying what few shreds of alliance they almost recouped during the time of Arthur and Camelot.

1594 AD

Miyamoto Mushashi is discovered by the Peri and brought to the Palin at the age of 10. An ingénue returning from Iethe, he kills his first Morrigan Samurai within three years of being uplifted into the Peri.

1641 AD

Musashi becomes a hermit, estranging himself from the rest of the Peri to write the Book of Five Rings.

1645 AD

Musashi rejoins the Peri after Drove attacks around Europe and Asia increase dramatically. The Peri begin hearing news of the recent incidents in Central and South America regarding the Dark Lady.

1665 AD

Peri in Great Britain are caught up in the Religarum of John Milton, trapped in their weapon forms for days.

1666 AD

The Peri travel in large masses to serve as weapons for the assembled Prides who have cornered the Dark Lady and the Dust in London.

1667 AD

The Peri join in reinstating the Stratagem Pact.

1699 AD

Peri inspired Tom Savery patents the steam engine. Ivaldi are outraged that the Palin are doing this, but find out that actually the Sindren are responsible, who also are living in the Hearth along with the Palin and Caliburn. Rather than risk another civil war between the two already decimated Kins, they leave well enough alone.

1771 AD

The Tryst Robert Rogers (founder of Roger's Rangers – a commando unit in the French and Indian wars) creates the Canyon Reaches mantle, to serve as a warriors practice realm. The main entrance would manifest within the Great Arch of the Hearth.

1826 AD

Peri inspired Sam Morey develops the internal combustion engine, based on information passed to him by Sindren sleepers. The Ivaldi ask for sanctions against the Sindren for releasing technology into the hands of humanity that could prove dangerous and has elements of the Doomsday Device as part of that technology. A ban is placed on all Doomsday technology from being released for 100 years. Various bits and pieces still get out through Quiet Cultures (sometimes spurred on by individual Peri).

1842 AD

The tryst Marquise de Volanges creates the Crystal Maze mantle after the Peri's involvement in the Napoleonic Wars. A few years later most of the areas of Devil's Catacombs empty out of Peri save those living in the Golden Palace and the Iron Castle as most Peri begin to assemble at the Hearth.

1846 AD

The Peri become involved in the Mexican/American War and in the United States' "Manifest Destiny". A group of Palin travel to the West away from the Hearth; naming themselves "The Steel" they warp their artifice forms through the use of ritual serenades, thus becoming the basis for new weapons such as the Colt .45 and other more modern personal firearms (a historical fact that many of the Peri are not necessarily proud of).

1876 AD

The Dracul, nearly absent from Japan, are not strong enough to assist the Peri from stopping the Morrigan from enacting a law that outlaws the wearing of swords except by army conscripts.

1937 AD

The Peri assist the Japanese-led Morrigan against the Tengu through all of Southeast Asia until the Morrigan cause Japan to sink a US gunboat in Chinese waters.

1941 AD

World War II begins. Because of its almost total use of "modern" warfare tactics, the Peri do not have the involvement they wish to. They plead with the other Prides to scale back the tactics, claiming that it will lead to certain ruination. The Prides polarize with the Banjax and Eremites leading the Allies and the Morrigan and the fallen Eremite House Aryan leading the other.

1945 AD

The Peri flee Japan with as many followers as they can and head deep into the Underworld to the Golden Palace and the Iron Castle. They barely escape the horror as atomic bombs eradicate mortal and immortal alike. The Peri are almost completely unable to travel through the first two tiers of the Underworld near Japan. The region of Inferno near Japan becomes impassable for the next few decades; only Phoenix and Sainha (the Salamanders) retain any interest in controlling this area. They are barely able to fortify their two strongholds to withstand the radiation and many mortals were unable to leave the Iron Castle where they were sheltered, an entire generation of mortal followers grew up there.

1950 AD

The Banjax hold off Nimrod-influenced Russia from taking over much of Japan, and allow the Peri to take ahold of Osaka and most of southern Japan while allowing the Dracul minor holdings in the North. A small contingent of Peri become involved in the growing Korean conflict.

1954 AD

The Peri are able to influence the other Pride-influenced countries to allow for the Self Defense Forces in Japan. The Peri forgers begin influencing Japan from a wartime culture to a manufacturing culture, allowing a small portion of their own advanced "alien" technology to influence the consumer electronics market. The Bloodstone Kin rise to power within the Peri not as warriors, but as forgers, the first time in tens of thousands of years.

1955 AD

Years of Palin influence pay off as Disneyland opens, starting an era of electronics merging into entertainment.

1960 AD

Humanity develops the laser under the influence of various Drokes, presenting a real and serious threat to the himsati race, the Peri work to curb the power and the final released laser is dampened from its original destructive capability, using technology from the Doomsday Device. The ban on the release of technology is lifted. The Peri enter the Vietnam War but pull out within a few years citing the uselessness of the war and waste of mortal life.

Circa 1960 – 1980

Peri are dispatched to various regions of the world to partake in a number of wars and skirmishes.

1964 AD

The Bloodstone take in the remaining Ivaldi to help push Japan's industrial sector. The Peri help gain the 1964 Summer Olympics for Tokyo, bringing in other Prides to see Japan again emerge into international view. The Palin release part of the Doomsday Device's technology for forms of entertainment through Disney at the 1964 World's Fair in the form of audio-animatronic figures (some of which were actually Peri themselves because mortals had difficulty in getting the technology to work). The Ivaldi's concerned are quieted when the Palin remind them they are doing the same thing in Japan as are the Arachne with their own technology.

1966 AD

All Peri cease any and all activities for one day to mourn the passing of Walter Elias Disney.

1990 AD

The Femme Darkle is stolen and the Invisible War begins.

1994 AD

Peri Sleepers actively search through the Morpheum to find lost Peri that may have returned as Ingenuie.

1999 AD

The Peri throw themselves at attacking Drokes, stepping in to assist with mantle defense for all Prides as the Great Betrayal begins. Then, the Kai Ra Mjolnir and the Morrigan Thor again join forces to retake Valhalla (i.e. Magonia). Caliburn rallies all Peri behind them to assist in forming the War Court during the Betrayal Wars.

2004 AD

The War Court disbands and the Peri return to their holdings to rebuild. They find renewed resistance from the Drokes, but now operating in different methods and sometimes even against one another. The Cerulean Order approaches the Peri; Caliburn and the leaders of the Kins travel to Atlantis to work with the others to come up with a new pact. Having proven itself, they agree to the Blue Emerald's terms and join the Atlantean Pact.